BAD HATS' ALICE IN WONDERLAND

How often do we let ourselves wonder? As children, we're the experts at it. We wrestle openly with the oddities of the world, rolling the pieces of the things we know over in our minds, but we're very soon told that everything has an answer, and a place, even us. So, where does all that wondering go? What happens when we stop being allowed to not know? I wanted to write a piece about leaning into the unknown, embracing the change that lives there, and believing that our greatest power lies in our curiosity.

On behalf of everyone at Soulepper and Bad Hats, we hope you enjoy this show with those you love.
